

South African Subtropical Growers' Association transformation

The South African Subtropical Growers' Association (Subtrop) runs several transformation initiatives, including training of government extension officers, organisation of grower study groups, bursaries and the Subtrop Transformation Summit.

Subtrop has a full-time transformation coordinator's position to oversee the implementation of these initiatives. Commercial growers within the Subtropical fruit industry also have their own transformation initiatives such as bursaries, internships, mentorship and partnership with land claim communities.

The industry also has a strategic focus on supporting smallholder farmers cultivating avocados, litchis and mangoes on communal land in Limpopo, Mpumalanga and Kwazulu-Natal provinces.
